ABOUT ME

I am an enthusiastic React.js/Next.js developer with a solid technical background, complemented by an engineering degree. Additionally, I am a versatile and dynamic individual, having expertise in developing user interfaces and integrating APIs with the client. My experience includes collaborating with companies in Silicon Valley, where I played a key role in building cutting-edge web applications acknowledged as top performers in their respective industries by G2.

WORK EXPERIENCE

01/2023 – CURRENT Dubai, United Arab Emirates

WEB TECHNOLOGY ENGINEER STARZPLAY

- Developing custom UI from scratch from the provided invasion Designs. Making sure the developed designs were responsive on mobile, tablets, and laptops/desktops.
- Making reusable components to maintain readable code and make debugging easier.
- Using Redux Saga to keep track of all API calls and enhance the user experience by nullifying extra API calls, reducing overall waiting time.
- Writing API calls in the Node.js(Express.js) middleware(s) and calling them via sdk(s).
- Memoizing functions and components to avoid unnecessary re-renders which in return enhances the user's overall experience.
- Decreasing interactivity delays by applying cached API calls on the client side.
